The side of a ship on which it was laden (that is loaded) was called the ladeboard, but its opposite, starboard, influenced a change in pronunciation to larboard. Then, because larboard was likely to be confused with starboard because of their similarity of sound, it was generally replaced by port.

Absolutely true. If I had not been part of the pickup community I would have not read Esther Vilar, which was recommended to me by another PUA who just swallowed the redpill at that time (soon after that we both got banned because we spilled the redpill all over the forum but that's another story), and therefore I would have not even started digging into that rabbit hole.
