Electronegativity, symbol χ , is a chemical property that describes the tendency of an atom to attract a shared pair of electrons (or electron density) towards itself. An atom's electronegativity is affected by both its atomic number and the distance at which its valence electrons reside from the charged nucleus. The higher the associated electronegativity number, the more an atom or a ...

The multi-mode gas cluster ion source (GCIS) is designed to operate in both Ar n + cluster and Ar + monatomic modes making it suitable for sputter cleaning and depth profiling organic, inorganic and metallic thin films. In addition it may also be used to generate low energy He + ions for use with ion scattering spectroscopy. The use of large argon clusters for sputter depth profiling of ...

Biochar composition can be crudely divided into relatively recalcitrant C, labile or leachable C and ash. The greatest chemical difference between biochar and other organic matter is the much larger proportion of aromatic C and, specifically, the occurrence of fused aromatic C structures (C_{10}), in contrast to other aromatic structures of soil organic matter such as lignin (Schmidt and Noack, 2000).
