Accounting or accountancy is the measurement, processing, and communication of financial information about economic entities such as businesses and corporations. The modern field was established by the Italian mathematician Luca Pacioli in 1494. Accounting, which has been called the "language of business", measures the results of an organization's economic activities and conveys this ...

To decide to be an accountant is no more descriptive than deciding to be a doctor as there are a variety of specialty areas. Many accountants engage in the practice of public accounting, which involves providing audit, tax, and consulting services to the general public. To engage in the practice of public accounting usually requires one to be licensed.

There are three types of phase response that a filter can have: zero phase, linear phase, and nonlinear phase. An example of each of these is shown in Figure 19-7. As shown in (a), the zero phase filter is characterized by an impulse response that is symmetrical around sample zero. The actual shape doesn't matter, only that the negative numbered samples are a mirror image of the positive ...
