"The Fourth Grade Slump" I reflected on how my experience was probably similar to what my students experience on state mandated tests. They think they know what they are going to do, they get the test and it's harder than they thought, and they are left with the anxiety of wondering how they could have better prepared themselves.

Inquiry-based learning (also enquiry-based learning in British English) is a form of active learning that starts by posing questions, problems or scenarios. It contrasts with traditional education, which generally relies on the teacher presenting facts and his or her knowledge about the subject. Inquiry-based Learning is often assisted by a facilitator rather than a lecturer.
